

best vegetable competition 2009

caution: winners may be eaten!

let's grow!

Sandy Lane Allotments and Gardeners' Association invite you to enter this year's show. By entering, you'll support Wolverhampton's bid for gold in the regional Heart of England in Bloom competition.

It's easy to get involved and free to enter. Just decide which category you want to exhibit in. You can choose between a whole range of classes for professionals and amateurs alike, and a special first time grower competition. All categories are in the separate show schedule on display, or online at www.wolverhampton.gov.uk/floralcity

Once you've decided, throw the seeds into any spare patch of land you have. After a little sunshine, water and attention dig them up, smarten their appearance and bring them to the show - making sure you get your entry form submitted in time of course.

What's more, you'll have a whole load of delicious home-grown produce ready for your dinner plate.

Grow for it!

entry deadline

Thursday

10th September 2008

competition results

Saturday

12th September 2009

4pm

Show location

Pendeford High School, (Upper School Hall), Marsh Lane, Fordhouses, Wolverhampton. WV10 6SE. Produce should be brought along and staged either 7- 9pm on Friday 11th Sept or 9am-11.45am on Saturday 12th September.

Vegetable competition entry form

Name

Vegetable(s) being entered

Total number of entries

Home address

Contact number or e-mail

Please return this form by 10th September 2009 to:

Vegetable Competition
58 Woodfield Heights
Tettenhall Wolverhampton
WV6 8PT

let's grow!

By taking part, you'll be supporting Wolverhampton's bid for gold in the regional Heart of England in Bloom awards.

Thank you.

For further information call 01902 556110
or visit wolverhampton.gov.uk/floralcity

Additional packs are available from the Civic Centre, Visitor Information Centre or Central Library.

Wolverhampton
City Council

Supported by Allseasons Garden Store, Carillion, Enterprise plc and Waitrose